Dear Parents and Carers,

At St. Jude's we aim to teach our children to respect and accept difference and diversity. The Equality Act (2010) is British Law and protects people from discrimination. We have a duty to ensure we cover this in school in order to prepare our children for modern life in Britain. In school and their future workplace they will be working alongside peers and colleagues who are different to them. We expect our children to be able to express their views with kindness and show consideration for the feelings of others.

Our key message is that we are all equal and we all belong because we are an inclusive school. In order to promote this ethos, we have chosen to use a resource that embeds equality, called 'No Outsiders'.

The Equality Act refers to the 'protected characteristics'. Following the statutory guidance from the DfE we will use 'No Outsiders' to 'ensure that the needs of all pupils are appropriately met, and all pupils understand the importance of equality and respect.' (DfE)

As always, we thank you for your continued support and should you wish to ask any further questions please do not hesitate to make an appointment with Mr Wilson.

Yours sincerely

Damian Wilson
